Sweet corn, green beans ready for summer at Papen Farms in Delaware

By

Chris Koger

June 9, 2026

The Delaware sweet corn crop is on track to hit its post-July 4 harvest date, following a cool early season that slowed growth.

A warm, but very dry period spurred growth but forced growers to heavily rely on irrigation to keep the sweet corn on track, and harvest is set to begin at the normal time, around July 10-12.
