TK Fresh values strong relationships with suppliers and customers

By

Chris Koger

June 29, 2026

Over its 40-year history, TK Fresh has built supplier relationships based on trust, transparency, consistency and mutual growth.

The company views its suppliers as long-term partners rather than vendors, said Lorenzo Scala, co-founder of the Toronto-based fresh produce distributor.

“Our goal is not only to purchase produce but also to help suppliers establish and expand their presence in the Canadian market through our sales expertise, retail relationships and distribution network,” Scala said.

IFPA, The Foundation for Fresh Produce launch All Day, Every Day campaign

June 26, 2026

The International Fresh Produce Association and The Foundation for Fresh Produce have launched Fruits & Vegetables: All Day, Every Day, a campaign built to close the persistent gap between knowing produce matters and actually eating more of it. The effort debuted with an activation at IFPA's Washington Conference, bringing the industry together with one voice to align consumer inspiration with the policy work that protects access and strengthens demand.

IPR Fresh bullish on organic produce as category continues to evolve

By

John Groh

June 26, 2026

As the organic produce category continues to mature, IPR Fresh sees significant opportunities for future growth and plans to bring that message to this year's Organic Produce Summit.

The Nogales, AZ-based company, a leading supplier of organic greenhouse-grown colored Bell peppers and cucumbers, believes organic produce has successfully transitioned from a niche offering to a core component of the produce department, creating new opportunities for retailers, growers and consumers alike.
