Titan Farms celebrates America's 250th birthday with limited-time
America's Peach Box

June 24, 2026

Titan Farms is bringing back its America's Peach Box for a limited time, giving retailers a unique opportunity to celebrate peak peach season alongside America's 250th birthday.

Now being packed and shipped to select retailers, the America-themed boxes will be available in stores for a limited time through mid-July. With peach volume typically at its highest around the Fourth of July, America's Peach Box offers a timely way to support customers, drive excitement in the produce department, and create seasonal displays that stand out.

Organic Produce Summit 2026 celebrates 10 years of growth and industry connection

By

Keith Loria

June 24, 2026

The Organic Produce Summit will return to Monterey, CA July 14-18, celebrating its 10th anniversary with an expanded trade show floor, an additional day of networking opportunities and new features designed to bring together every segment of the organic produce supply chain.

As the only event dedicated exclusively to connecting producers and buyers in the organic fresh produce industry, OPS has evolved into one of the must-attend gatherings on the produce calendar.

From campus to career: Meet AFE's 2026 interns

June 24, 2026

Each year, the floral industry celebrates and spotlights future leaders who take their education beyond the classroom through internship programs. In 2026, eight students are being placed through the Vic & Margaret Ball Internship Program and the Mosmiller Intern Scholarship Program.

The programs provide students with hands-on industry experience while helping host companies develop future leaders in floriculture and horticulture. Interns expand their technical skills, gain professional connections and explore career opportunities within the industry.

More than a supplier: The Bushwick difference

June 23, 2026

In an industry where consistency matters as much as quality, Bushwick Potato Commission has spent nearly a century earning the trust of retailers, growers and consumers alike.

Since its founding, the company has built a reputation for reliability, helping bring premium potatoes and vegetables to store shelves while fostering long-term relationships throughout the retail community. That commitment has allowed Bushwick to remain a steady presence in a constantly evolving marketplace.
