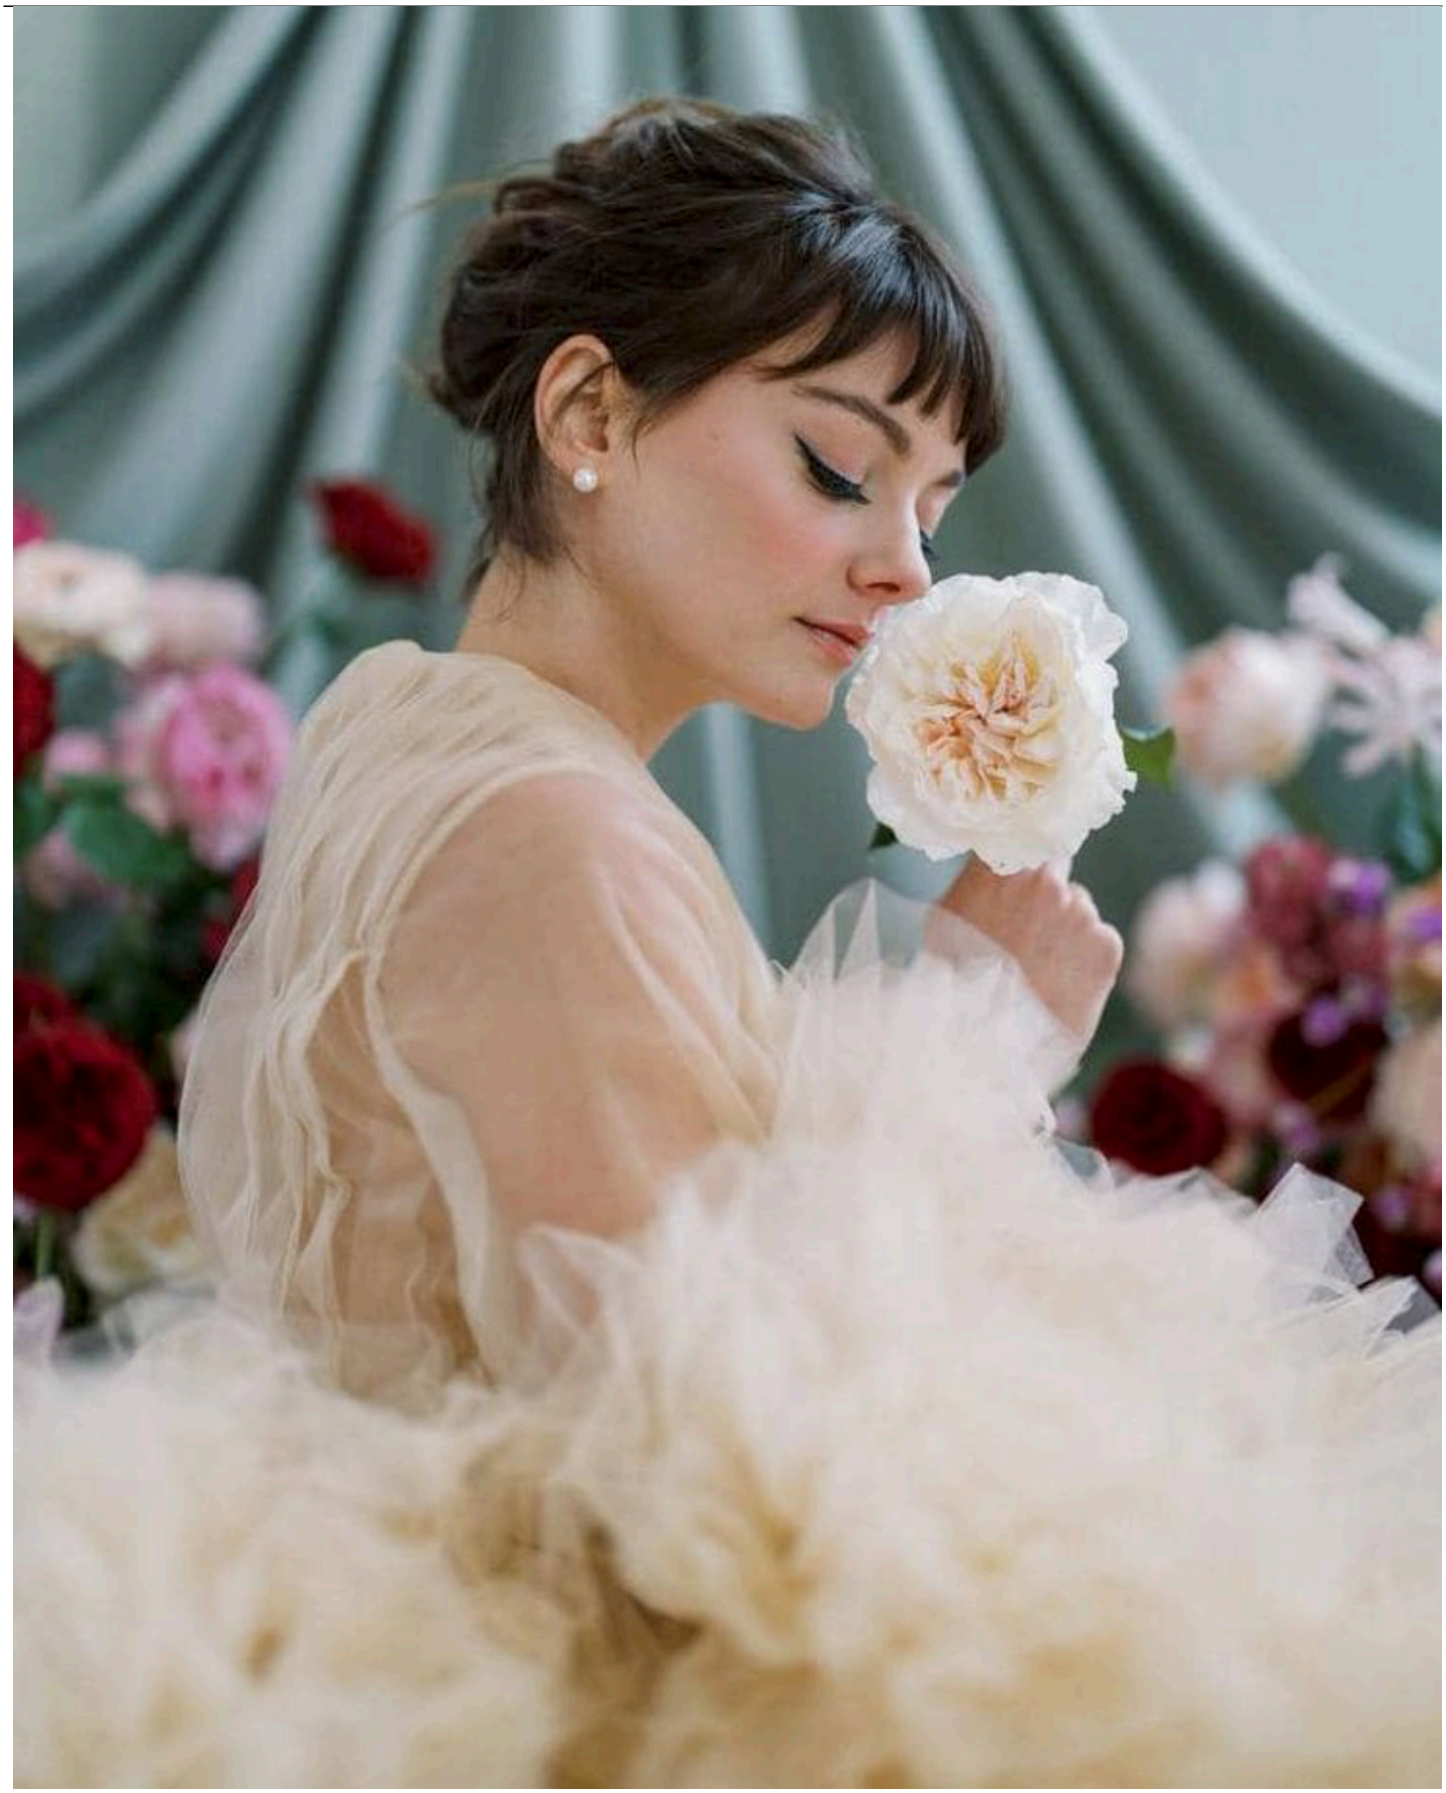
An Alexandra Farms guide to David Austin's fragrant cut roses

June 3, 2026



Roses are a sight to behold in their apricot, pink, yellow or ivory glory and a delight to breathe in, depending on the variety’s fragrance. Without fragrance, the world would be emptier than might first be thought.

Scents are processed in the same part of the brain as memories. Scents are emotional and can transport a person back to a moment in time. Scents can soothe and make the stresses of a day feel suddenly insignificant.
