Happy holidays from your produce industry family

December 9, 2020

As this most unusual year draws to a close, members of the produce industry are taking stock in the importance of celebrating the holidays and time spent with loved ones. In this Holiday Sightings series, we highlight this very special time of year and wish all a very happy and healthy holiday season.

Help us spread the holiday cheer by submitting your own photo to newsdesk@theproducenews.com.
