

- Advertisement -

Tom Jenkins joins JOH's New England division

November 18, 2022

Tom Jenkins has joined the produce division at JOH as an account executive.

A seasoned sales and marketing professional, Jenkins has more than a decade of experience growing HP Hood and Chiquita brands in large New England retailers. In addition to being an excellent communicator, the company said he has strong industry relationships and consistently delivers results.

“We are excited to welcome Tom to our team,” said Brian Maguire, executive vice president of the produce division, New England. “Tom has been very successful at growing clients and customers. We are thrilled to see what he will bring to the JOH family. Welcome to the team!”

Jenkins and his wife have a 15-month-old daughter. He enjoys spending time with family and friends, going to the beach and hitting the golf course whenever he can.

Print