

- Advertisement -

¡Yo Quiero! celebrates Cinco de Mayo as the ultimate dip destination

---

May 2, 2023

No Cinco de Mayo celebration is complete without the stable of premium dips offered by ¡Yo Quiero!, including its signature guacamoles and salsas, avocado-forward cream cheese dips, and the newest in its line of "better for you" snacking options: ¡Yo Quiero!'s new Original Bean Dip and ¡Yo Quiero!'s new Spicy Bean Dip.

As the Cinco de Mayo holiday falls on a Friday this year, ¡Yo Quiero! is getting revelers ready to celebrate all weekend long, and even all year long, as part of its Cinco de Mayo Sweepstakes where one lucky winner will be awarded one year of dips.

"We know that the variety of dips we have, in addition to our signature guacamole, means that there is something for everyone, making it easier than ever to celebrate Cinco de Mayo with friends, family, or both," said Tara Murray, vice president of marketing for ¡Yo Quiero!, the family-owned Texas-based company known for its commitment to helping people "eat good to feel good." "With a consciousness of family and quality ingredients at the forefront, we search out the top-quality ingredients for each and every line of dips we offer, so there is favor galore, fewer additives and the convenience of a variety of sizes, suitable for any celebration!"

For the past few years, ¡Yo Quiero! has become a much more familiar sight on grocery store shelves as the demand for fresh, convenient, healthier-for-you choices in the fridge and pantry steadily increases. ¡Yo Quiero!, the ultimate dip destination for Cinco de Mayo, currently offers:

- Crave-inducing guacamole made from Hass avocados, the gold standard of avocados. Hand-scooped fruit accented by the freshest ingredients makes for the best tasting, store-bought guacamole on the planet, with the flavor of homemade but zero hassle or guesswork.
- Queso that rises above the ordinary by combining authentic Mexican flavors with down-home Texas tradition to create south-of-the-border flavors of creamy goodness begging for crispy chips and an ice-cold margarita.
- Store-bought salsa dips made with top-quality tomatoes, veggies and the perfect amount of spices. Whether you are topping your tacos or dipping your chips, fresh-tasting salsa is a family favorite.
- A line of avocado cream cheese dips that combines the mouthwatering decadence of real cream cheese with the wholesome goodness of avocado. All the dips have Hass avocado as the No. 1 ingredient, have no artificial colors or flavors, and are gluten free and keto friendly.
- Premium refrigerated bean dips that are packed with the protein and nutrients found in humble beans are full of flavorful spices and packaged in sizes created for convenience and any dip occasion

For more information or to enter the sweepstakes go to <https://yoquierobrands.com/cinco-de-mayo-sweepstakes/>, where entries will be open until May 9.

