PRO\*ACT named Kevin Vogt as its new chief financial officer. Vogt brings with him a wealth of experience and expertise in financial management and executive leadership.

Prior to joining PRO*ACT, Vogt served as the managing director at the Swanson Family of Cos., where he oversaw the family office and played a key role in succession and estate planning for the family. He also supported multiple acquisitions to expand the family's portfolio of companies.

Before his time with the Swanson Family, Vogt spent 17 years at Hilmar Cheese Co. Inc., where he held various leadership positions including vice president/general manager of cheese and vice president/general manager of Hilmar Ingredients. He eventually served as CFO and chief administrative officer at the company.

Vogt's impressive career also includes a 12-year stint as CFO at Emanuel Medical Center. He holds a degree in business/economics from Westmont College and an MBA from California State University Stanislaus.

"We are thrilled to welcome Kevin Vogt to the PRO*ACT team as our new chief financial officer," said Chip Walker, CEO of PRO*ACT. "His extensive experience and proven track record of success make him the perfect fit for our organization as we continue to grow and expand our market presence."

In addition to his professional accomplishments, Vogt is actively involved in the community and currently serves on the board of New Hope Uganda Ministries and the EMC Health Foundation. He and his wife, Emily, are proud parents to an adult daughter, son and daughter-in-law.
