Salad Days spotlights CEA as food safety gains attention

July 23, 2026

With food safety and produce sourcing receiving increased attention, Salad Days Produce is introducing more buyers and consumers to the benefits of lettuce grown within a controlled greenhouse environment.

Located in Flora, MS, Salad Days Produce grows fresh lettuce year-round using hydroponic production. Its enclosed greenhouse gives the company greater control over the conditions surrounding the crop, including water, nutrients, sanitation and access to the growing area.

July 23, 2026

Summer weather is keeping the Salinas Valley on watch this week. Warm days, higher humidity and long daylight hours are pushing crops along quickly, which is good for supply but harder on quality. Lettuce and leaf markets are sitting near seasonal lows, and with heat across much of the country this is still a great time to keep fresh salads moving.

July 23, 2026

ORGANIC PRODUCE SUMMIT

For the past decade, the Organic Produce Summit, held in July in Monterey, CA, near the nation's "Salad Bowl," has proven to be a tremendous draw for sellers, buyers and producers to celebrate organic produce. This year's event was no exception.

OPS has expanded a bit over the years, with this year's July 14-16 meeting spreading over three days, including grower tours, two days of sessions, several networking events and the traditional one-day trade show featuring more than 200 exhibitors.
