Progressive Produce and Keystone Fruit Marketing announced the highly anticipated return of Walla Walla sweet onions, the official state vegetable of Washington.

With their renowned flavor profile, Walla Walla sweet onions will captivate taste buds again this season.

"An excellent crop of these irresistibly sweet and mild onions will be ready by mid-June," said Mike Blume, vice president of sales and marketing at Keystone Fruit Marketing. "And as a July 4th favorite, it's imperative that you plan accordingly now."

The company suggested getting in touch with sales managers to start planning as soon as possible.

Progressive Produce is a year-round grower-packer-shipper of fresh produce. It grows thousands of acres throughout North and South America of potatoes, onions, asparagus, citrus, and other fruits and vegetables.
